FOREWORD

Our idea of an ideal Dahlia Catalogue is one that gives a brief and accurate description of only the leading and up-to-date varieties or in other words, the most satisfactory from the standpoint of garden, cutting and exhibition purposes.

It is our aim to carry about one hundred varieties on our list, each year adding the outstanding new sorts and dropping an equal number of the less desirable ones.

We are, this year, offering three Lyndora Seedlings which we firmly believe will be appreciated and praised by our patrons. We expect to offer each year the few outstanding varieties from our seedling garden, all of which must be recognized as having unusual merit at the Trial Grounds.

At the 1925 Philadelphia Dahlia Show we were again successful in winning the Pennsylvania Horticultural Society Gold Medal for the best collection of fifty varieties, this being our third consecutive winning of this trophy.

We shall be glad to be of help to an intending purchaser by answering questions regarding the characteristics of any variety we list and being of any possible service to aid a buyer in selecting varieties most likely to measure up to his or her personal standard.

CULTURAL NOTES

Dahlias will grow to perfection in almost any soil provided proper care is given to the method of planting, fertilizing, cultivating and watering.

Put out tubers or plants from June 1st to July 1st. Those planted early will produce the largest tubers.

Prepare soil by spading or plowing 12 to 18 inches deep. Work into the soil well decomposed stable manure or vegetable matter, such as leaves, lawn trimmings, etc. Scatter $\frac{1}{4}$ pound of Ground Bone about each hill at planting time and $\frac{1}{4}$ to $\frac{1}{2}$ pound per plant applied about August 15th. As a substitute for Bone, good potato fertilizer or sheep manure may be used to advantage.

Plants are usually set 3 by 4 feet. Strong growing varieties, if well fed, may need more room. Thorough and frequent cultivations during the first two months after planting with moderate side dressings and very shallow cultivation and mulching the remainder of the season is recommended. As a general practice water only during very dry weather, when it should be very thoroughly done. Little watering will be necessary if soil has been spaded deeply and contains a good amount of humus and is well mulched.

To produce large blooms begin training plants when small by leaving from four to eight of the strongest laterals as low down on the main stem as possible. Remove all side shoots and side buds excepting the main or terminal bud on each of the laterals.

During the past season, Leaf Hoppers and Thrip were quite troublesome in some sections of the country, checking the growth and causing stunted plants. The best known remedy to prevent the attacks of these insects is spraying or dusting with nicotine solution or powder. In the case of Thrip, which is usually found in the terminal growths, the solution or powder should be applied from above especially at the growing points; while for the Leaf Hoppers, the application should be made to the lower side of the leaves. We had splendid control of Leaf Hoppers last season by treating them as follows: Soon after plants were put out in the field thorough application of nicotine dust was applied to the under side of the leaves and this operation repeated twice a week until plants were two to three feet in height. After this stage, although the Hoppers were present, the plants apparently were unaffected. Some varieties show the effects of these insects much more than others. Thin leafed varieties are especially susceptible.
